LADAKH DAYPACK

Sleek and stable. Developed originally as part of our hybrid adventure travel pack ensemble, this daypack has achieved stand-alone popularity. The long-line design with its padded hip fins, side stabiliser straps and low-slung volume distribution give this pack body-hugging performance. What is unusual (and noteworthy) is to find such a sleek configuration available in long-lasting canvas, with sturdy zips and a solid emphasis on product durability. This pack is a favourite with commuter cyclists.
